Comments:

It's a party planning committee and not an initiative committee. Leadership is busy doing their real jobs that there is no time to commit to making any real changes. I think Frank H., as new president, will drive it into the ground the next two years.

Staff Council focuses too much on event planning rather than staff advocacy.

we have never been given a list of our constituents, so I do not know who I need to relay information to, so I don't. We have a representative on Staff Council that disseminates information to our whole college (Sci and engineering)...that may or may not be who my constituents are...I do not have a complete distribution list, so is better for her to do it.

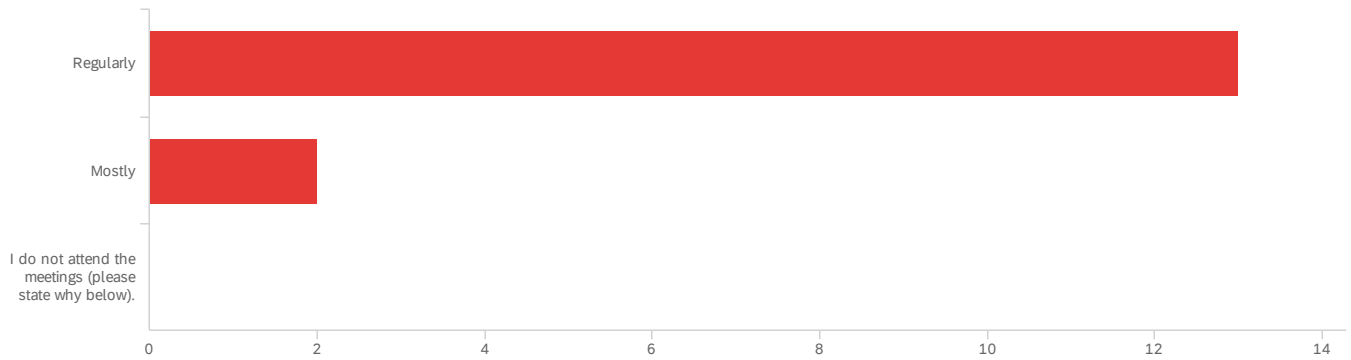

I have enjoyed my time on Staff Council and I have one more term on my service.

Our biggest problem is that we are unproductive during our meetings, and the committees within staff council don't meet as they should to make staff council effective.

If you serve in one of the subcommittees, there is more time commitment. It is not a decision making body; just a communication medium from the top cascading down.

The meetings aren't well attended despite nominees agreeing to being put up for election. It would be interesting to hear from those who don't attend the meetings why. I believe the committee is basically a CAB group for the staff/faculty.
